safer to take the gun away from him first! You get on with your teaching much better. And present-day human nature has to be shamed into laying down its gun—that seems to be the only way to do.

Fraternally yours,

GRACE ISABEL COLBRON.

WAR!

What does the man who goes to war get in return for giving up his family, his home, and all that is his? The man in the ranks, IF HE LIVE, returns to a ruined land, and is obliged to start all over again. He has lost his job, and the empty glory which attaches to his having killed his fellow-men will not keep him or his family from privation and want. Industry has been disturbed, and there are fewer jobs than there were before the war.

The man who has spent days and nights among corpses in the trenches, with the shells shrieking over his head, will find that whatever the outcome of his sacrifice he, as a worker, may merely have changed exploiters.

Whether his country win or lose, it is he who must foot the bill. He must pay the tremendous cost of the war out of his daily labor. He has been used as a cat's-paw to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for the privileged class, to whom he must go for permission to work and live.

Do you think it pays?

Peace and War Measures Before Congress.

(Legislation is introduced into either House of Congress, and bills or resolutions are numbered consecutively as filed. They are immediately referred to the appropriate committee, whose reports bring them to the originating House for passage. The following abbreviations are employed: S., Senate Bill; H. R., House of Representatives Bill; J. Res., Joint Resolution; Con. Res., Concurrent Resolution; Res., Resolution; Rept., Report; bills approved by the President become statutes, public or private, and are numbered in the order of enactment. When legislation enacted is noted the number of the Index to the Daily Congressional Record, which gives the complete record of the bill, has been added.)
